Selig pictures are such favorites with the people that it is sufficient to merely mention that it is a Selig.

We have had so many complaints concerning the annoyance caused by the large hats now in use that we believe that all patrons of moving picture shows have at one time or other been prevented from seeing the pictures by the hats of those in front and have been considerably annoyed by this interference. We have considered various ways to eliminate this trouble and have finally decided to ask the ladies who cannot conveniently remove their hats to occupy the seats on the left side of the room.

RESENTMENT OF A TAVERNS RIVAL

Action of the Avenger Involves Two fold Mystery, Jealous Motive Prompted the Misconduct. Guilty Party not Definitely Known.

It would be a real pleasure for some people to go back to the days of chivalry when the Houses of Montague and Capulet and many other houses were carrying on a constant feud. Clansmen clashing in daily combat or masters dueling to uphold the reputation of an ancient and honorable name; however these names will not apply in this case, the knights do not come from Veronese families and the scene is not laid in Italy. On a recent Sunday evening Paul Sentz, living in the vicinity of Two Taverns was making a call.

He is the owner of a well equipped driving outfit and quite recently added to his supply a new set of harness and several expensive robes. Thinking that his team would be safe, he tied it to the post within a few yards of the house, where it could be plainly seen from the window.

At some time during his stay the hated rival seeking recompense for his wounded feelings determined to have revenge. Approaching with a stealthy tread just as a knight of old, he seized the trappings and proceeded to devastate.

The lines and other parts of the harness were cut, the whip thrown in to a barnyard and the new robes and blankets sliced with a knife.

Not satisfied with this dirty work, the culprit then laid wait and when Mr. Sentz started home, fired off a gun to frighten his horse.

This as Mr. Sentz believes was intended as a joke, but it went beyond the margin in which the spirit of a joke is usually considered, such willful destruction of his property could certainly not be regarded as a joke.

EAST BERLIN

East Berlin, Jan. 18.—N. W. Sell was a recent visitor in Gettysburg. Squire Wolf made a business trip to Hanover on Saturday.

Daniel Bushey, who has been sick for sometime, is in a critical condition.

Sunday morning the thermometer registered 6 degrees below zero, the coldest day of the year.

BUCHANAN VALLEY

Buchanan Valley, Jan. 18.—Raymond F. Cole visited James McKenrick as the guest of Charles McKenrick of near Gettysburg on Wednesday.

Gilbert McKenrick when on a visit with his parents to his uncle Allen Kane's fell against the stove and burned his hand badly. It was not improving by home treatment, and Dr. W. E. Holland was called in to dress the burn on Wednesday.

Bernard McKenrick and Charles Robinson, of near Gettysburg, spent several days at John E. Brady's of this place.

John Irvin and son, of Gettysburg, spent Sunday at John Irvin's, his uncle Mr. and Mrs. John Cole and children. Earl and Josephine and your correspondent spent a day in Cashtown this week.

HEARING POSTPONED

The complaint was a charge lodged against one of the deer hunters in South Mountain, for the killing of a deer on which the horns were not visible. It is said that after mounting the head the horns were plainly visible. A hearing on the same violation that involved different circumstances was held before Magistrate Seiders, of Chambersburg on Monday, in which Benjamin Myers, John Ross, Harvey Hockersmith, William Hays, Robert Eisecker and Frank Stone, were charged with wounding a doe during the open season. The case was dismissed without hearing the evidence. According to the law, as the magistrate understood it, the killing of the doe by the Forestryman, relieved the men of the charge that would have undoubtedly been made against them.

IMPORTANT ALLIANCE

It is absolutely stated that a trade and traffic alliance has been formed by the Western Maryland Railroad with the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad, a subsidiary of the New York Central road, by which the Western Maryland becomes the Eastern terminus of the New York Central's middle western lines.

By the terms of agreement the Western Maryland is to build 86 miles of track from Cumberland to Fairhaven, Pa., where it will connect with the tracks of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie. The Western Maryland trains will go by this route to Pittsburgh.

It was also stated that work on this stretch of track will be begun at once, and the officials of the road expect that the trains will be running into Pittsburgh by the fall of this year.

The Western Maryland has agreed to build several additional piers at Port Covington, Baltimore, to accommodate incoming freight.

It is reported that new steamship lines, backed by the Vanderbilt interests, will be run into Baltimore to handle this freight.

It places fields of knowledge, vast and varied, within the reach of all. Price 25 cents; (west of Buffalo and Pittsburgh, 30 cents); by mail, 35 cents.

APPLES BEING HELD IN STORAGE

Prices Later will be Much Higher Costs about Fifty Cents a Barrel to Keep.—The Most Popular Fruit.

Good apples in this vicinity both among dealers and householders. This is attributed to the heavy purchases for and shipments to the eastern and southern markets and the storing of them for higher prices. But some of the eastern cities are complaining quite as bitterly as this section of the scarcity. As Byron put it, "Since Eve Ate Apples," the world has got to like the toothsome fruit immensely. They are the most popular fruit not only because they are palatable and nutritious, but because they may be had the year round. Here in the east the cider maker and vinegar man, who not so long ago had little difficulty in getting carloads of prime russets of pound sweets (less than fifty to a bushel), of dark winter greenings and of reddish Northern Spies is now content to take the "culs."

The most popular and productive raised in this county is the York Imperial. Many farmers in this section have long been experimenting and they have pretty generally reached this conclusion.

In discussing this matter a Philadelphia newspaper says that in Missouri and Kansas, where the Winesap, the Ben Davis and the Peerless Jonathans are mainly grown, they are never sure of a crop. Two years ago there wasn't a carload of apples harvested in either State, although the largest single apple orchard in the country, if not in the world, stands in an apparently flourishing condition near Fort Leavenworth. It covers more than 800 acres. Of course, the nipping frosts account for the crop failures out there.

Still, it is well understood that, just as cotton and wheat are warehoused against a rising market, so in larger and larger quantities (and it goes without saying, in plentiful seasons), the apple growers are placing their barrels of fruit in cold storage. In round figures it costs 50 cents for a barrel, 50 cents for picking the three bushels and a half in it, and 50 cents for cold storage, during three to four months. The apples so held over from Autumn to Spring pay for themselves handsomely. About June they are, in Biblical phrase, "apples of gold in pictures of silver."

SNOW TURNS TO RAIN

With the rise in temperature following the severe cold weather of the past few days, the County is treated to a different variety of weather. Snow began falling Monday evening about six o'clock and by ten o'clock the conditions had changed to sleet and rain.

Variety seems to be the spice of life and surely no disappointment has befallen the people of this community. The farmers report the snow as especially beneficial to crops, the wheat has suffered some from the sleet that was merely a thin covering of ice and froze out the roots, but it is believed that the heavy fall of snow will overcome the check in growth and that the wheat will get an early start.

IN THE BISHOP'S CARRIAGE

"There's a reason!" Yes, there are many reasons why you should see "In the Bishop's Carriage" on Tuesday, January 25, at the Walter Theatre. It is the best dramatization by the most prominent dramatist, Channing Pollack, of the greatest popular novel, and acted by a cast that is pronounced "all star," including as it does, Miss Stephanie Longfellow, and Messrs. Hudson Liston and Harry L. Minurn. Again, this drama is not only interesting but teaches a well thought out lesson of up-to-date criminology.

MOUNTAIN WATER

The pump in the Antietam which has been running for some months furnishing water for Hagerstown has been stopped and the city is now being supplied by water from the mountain reservoirs. Officials of the Water Company yesterday stated that while the Edgemont reservoir is not full, yet it is hoped that the supply will be sufficient that the Antietam water will not have to be used again. The pump, however, will be held in readiness, so that in case the supply from the mountain is found inadequate the pump can be started on short notice. All persons are urged to be careful in the use of water and to avoid any unnecessary use.

If all consumers of the city observe this it is thought that the use of Antietam water is at an end.

FOR SALE: my desirable residence on East York street, Biglerville, water all through the house, bath, etc. To a quick buyer a bargain at $2250. W. E. Kapp.

Wanted His Money Back.

It is an old saying that "you cannot eat your cake and have it too." But a seashell person usually cares little for either side of the proposition. The captain of one of the steamships plying between this country and Italy, which arrived at New York with over 600 immigrants, tells a rather amusing story of a heated interview held between himself and one of them on the voyage across.

The vessel had been out a few days and had encountered some heavy seas. The first morning that calmer weather prevailed one of the steerage passengers appeared for the first time above deck and with a face as white as a sheet approached the captain.

"This has got to stop!" he said angrily.

"What has?" asked the captain, in surprise.

"This feeling of death. When I bought my ticket I was told it included meals, but I can't keep my food down. Now, it has got to stop, captain, or else I want my passage money back. You cannot break your contract in this fashion with me."

It took all the captain's ingenuity to pacify him during the rest of the trip.

—Youth's Companion.

A tramp went into a farmhouse recently, and seeing no one but an old woman, he said in very forceful tones, "Give me a drink of milk or else!"

But a man came behind him suddenly and, catching him by the neck, said, "Else what?"

"Else water," said the tramp humbly.—London Tatler.

Yes, He Was Hurt.
There had been a barroom fight in a frontier town. One man was frightfully mangled with a bowie knife. The surgeon said that he could not live and described his condition in the technical terms of his profession, telling of injuries to certain cartilages, membranes, and so forth. When he had gone away a friend of the dying man called to inquire if he was really in danger, asking, "Is Jim much hurt?" "Is Jim hurt?" replied one of the crowd. "Is Jim hurt? Why, man, the doc says that all of the Latin part of his bowels is gone."

The Risk He Ran.
It was a prohibition country. As soon as the train pulled up a seedy little man with a covered basket on his arm hurried to the open windows of the smoker and exhibited a quart bottle filled with rich dark liquid.

"Want to buy some nice cold tea?" he asked, with just the suspicion of a wink.

Two thirsty looking cattlemen brightened visibly, and each paid a dollar for a bottle.

"Wait until you get out the station before you take a drink," the little man cautioned them. "I don't want to get in trouble."

He found three other customers before the train pulled out, in each case repeating his warning.

"You seem to be doing a pretty good business," remarked a man who had watched it all. "But I don't see why you'd run any more risk of getting in trouble if they took a drink before the train started."

"Ye don't, hey? Well, what them bottles had in 'em, pardner, was real cold tea."

Shocked the Old Gentleman.
Henry E. Dixey, the comedian, while visiting Philadelphia one autumn attended a very aristocratic Thanksgiving ball in Rittenhouse square.

While supper was being served Mr. Dixey ranged himself behind the supper table with the twelve or fifteen waiters busy there. Soon a mild mannered old gentleman with white hair approached the actor, glass in hand.

"Would you mind filling my glass with champagne, please?" he said.

Mr. Dixey started, drew himself up and said, with a look of horror:

"Certainly not, sir; certainly not. You have already had more than is good for you."

Colored Swedes.
A substantial Swedish merchant of New York city who came to this country when he was a boy told this incident of his early experiences in the metropolis:

"I once started out to call upon a girl I had known in the old country. I was told that she lived at Madison avenue and — street. When I reached that corner I was in doubt which house to try, but I finally went up the steps of one that faced on the avenue and rang the bell. A girl came to the door. 'Does Miss Nelson live here?' I asked as politely as I could.

"I don't know any such person," she answered, and I was turning away when she called after me, 'Is she white?'

"That irritated me. 'Did you ever know any Swedes who were colored?' I asked.

"Well, I have seen some green Swedes," was her retort, and I did not continue the conversation."

QUITS PENSION COMMITTEE

Congressman Dies, of Texas, Protests Against System.

Washington, Jan. 18.—Representative Martin Dies, of Texas, resigned from the pension committee of the house because he is opposed to the pension system as now administered. In his letter of resignation to Speaker Cannon, Mr. Dies declared he was in favor of general pension laws, but opposed to private pension bills.

"Every man on the payroll of the government, from the president down to the porters around the capitol, is anxious to have his pay increased," declared Mr. Dies in a statement. "Within the past few days the president has announced himself in favor of pensioning government employees. In the meantime congress is spending nearly $100,000,000 a month and the people are groaning under high living expenses. If this thing continues it will soon be worse than the militarism of Europe. There, every laborer must work to support a soldier. In our case, every laborer will be compelled to work to support a pensioner. I am heartily opposed to the system and I am glad to be off the committee."

LAUNCHING BOOMS FOR SPEAKERSHIP

Olmsted, of Pa., Mentioned to Succeed Cannon.

Washington, Jan. 18.—There were a couple of developments in the Cannon-speakership insurgent-rules situation in the house of representatives. A poll of the Michigan delegation revealed that Representatives Townsend, McLaughlin and Hamilton are decidedly anti-Cannon; that Representative Loud hopes to heaven Uncle Joe will quit without being pushed; that Representative Diekmann has announced himself as a candidate for the job, and that Representatives Denby, Fordney and McMorran think that the present speaker is all right and will vote that way until the cows come home. Representatives Smith, Gardner, Dadds and Young are still sitting upon the fence.

It became known that the Pennsylvania delegation is thinking of supporting a man to succeed Mr. Cannon in the chair. Representative Daizell has been mentioned, but it is not likely that he will be in the race if there is a race. On the other hand, it is thought that if any eastern man has a look in, Representative Olmsted, who knows a good deal about parliamentary law and practice, would be as strong or stronger than anybody else.

Some members of the Pennsylvania delegation are growing because in their opinion Uncle Joe hasn't treated them fairly or treated the Atlantic seaboard fairly with respect to membership on the rivers and harbors commission and the waterways commission. There will be no announcement from this delegation now, but it is understood that if it becomes apparent that Mr. Cannon is bound to go down and out as far as the speakership is concerned, Olmsted will be pushed to the front.

The Minnesota delegation, while having made no announcement for publication, was understood to have an anti-Cannon majority.

PRICE OF SHOES GOING UP

Wholesalers Make Announcement.

Against Duty on Hides.

Boston, Jan. 18.—The price of shoes is going up. Official announcement to this effect was made by the National Shoe Wholesalers' association. The existing high prices of leather and materials makes the increase necessary.

The association's approval of the repeal of the duty on hides was unanimously voiced.

Leopard's Bites Fatal to Woman.
New York, Jan. 18.—Pauline Russell, thirty-eight years old, the animal trainer who was attacked and badly torn by one of her two leopards while she was training the animals for a performance at Huber's museum, Jan. 9, died from her injuries in the Bellevue hospital.

U. S. Speeds Oil Trial.
Washington, Jan. 18.—The supreme court of the United States granted the motion of the government for the advancement on the docket of the Standard Oil case and set the hearing for March 14 next.

The great agricultural labor of the coming years will not be devoted to developing virgin lands so much as conserving and restoring the fertility of soils already under cultivation.

There is probably no factor in the winter feeding of the flock of poultry that has more to do in getting results in eggs than in making the hens scratch for what they get to eat. A loafing hen stuffed chieflly with corn never has laid to speak of in the winter or any other time and never will.

Quail Starving to Death.

York, Pa., Jan. 18.—The heavy snow and the cold weather, it is said, is causing the death of many quail over the southern part of the county. The birds seem to be unable to get food enough upon which to live. A number of the birds have been found frozen to death.

The danger of vegetables in the col lar freezing on the severest nights may be reduced by having a tub of two or three pailfuls of water there. Water is more susceptible to the action of frost than vegetables and will therefore freeze first.

Owing to the fact that very many of the Danish cows are tethered while at pasture, their owners drive the water to them instead of driving the cows to water, as is customary in America and some other countries where larger pastures are the rule.

SUSPECT ADMITS KILLING NURSE

Makes Full Confession at Request of Mother.

Schermerhorn Declares He Had No Intention to Injure Miss Brymer and Blames Crime on Beer and Whisky. Doesn't Remember Details.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Jan. 18.—In the presence of his mother and sister, Frank Schermerhorn confessed to the murder of Miss Sarah Brymer, the nurse in Barnes Compton's home at Millbrook, last week. He made the confession to Under Sheriff Hornbeck in the hospital. Schermerhorn, who was Compton's coachman, has been in the hospital under constant guard since last Thursday night, when he cut his throat while the officers were seeking him. Monday was the first time his mother has visited him in the hospital.

Schermerhorn, propped up in a chair and with his hands, which had been tied while in bed to prevent further attempts at suicide, entirely free, greeted his mother affectionately. She bent over him, and while the officers stood off some distance the mother counseled Frank to make a full and free confession. He seemed reluctant for a time to do so. Finally, while his mother spoke to him in low tones, he blurted out: "Oh, I did it. I will tell."

His Mother Faints.

Mrs. Schermerhorn swooned, falling on the floor. Under Sheriff Hornbeck picked her up, and then, while nurses cared for her, Hornbeck wrote down the prisoner's statement, which Schermerhorn signed. His sister, Mrs. Kilmer, was also present and showed great feeling.

The confession was given to District Attorney Mack, who declined to permit its publication in full, but gave out the substance as follows: "Schermerhorn pleaded intoxication for his crime. He declared at the outset that he had no intention to kill or injure Miss Brymer. He told of taking the maids, Alice Dutcher and Mary Farrell, for a sleigh ride the evening before the murder. He drank considerable beer and whisky, and after leaving the girls at the big house he put the horses in the barn and went to his own house and changed his clothes. He says he was so drunk that he remembers indistinctly the subsequent events.

Does Not Remember Murder.

Some time after midnight he remembers he went to the mansion, which he entered through the kitchen, the door of which was unlocked. He made his way upstairs and out upon the porch where Miss Brymer and three-year-old Polly Compton were sleeping. He has no remembrance, he says, of assaulting the nurse or of choking her, but he told Under Sheriff Hornbeck that if it was true that she had been assaulted then he must have done it. He declared, however, that he had no intention of injuring Miss Brymer when he entered the house, and went only to her room to scare her.

With regard to Mary Farrell's story of the appearance of the supposed burglar at her bedside with a dark lantern, Schermerhorn says that he went to the east wing, where the servants' rooms are situated, but he does not remember entering the cook's room or of having a dark lantern. He believes, he says, that he struck a match to find his way to the stairs leading to the kitchen.

With regard to the silverware taken from the Campton house to the value of $500, Schermerhorn says that he has no recollection of removing it, but he does remember putting it into the stove in his house and then, when the fire did not consume it, placing the charred and best pieces in the chimney flue.

He says that he has no recollection of blackening his face before entering the Compton house.

Schermerhorn's wife, who has been ill, is still in Vassar hospital, unaware of her husband's predicament. He frequently expresses a desire to see her. Schermerhorn will be well enough to be removed to the county jail in a few days.

INTOXICATION HIS EXCUSE

FARMER DOESN'T GET BIG BEEF PROFITS

Investigation Shows They Are Reaped Elsewhere.

Washington, Jan. 18.—"We have already discovered that the farmer is not getting the exorbitant profits out of the beef dealers," said Secretary Wilson, of the department of agriculture, in discussing the high prices of food supplies.

"I have no doubt in the world," he continued, "that the same conditions will be found to prevail in most of the other lines of farm products.

"The department of agriculture has agents in every state and every county in the country, and they have been ordered to report exhaustively on the cost of production and the returns on sales of all sorts of food products. As fast as we receive these figures we will compare them with the prices the same products bring in the cities where they are consumed. We will then give the facts to the public.

"We intend to bring out the truth, irrespective of whom it hurts or whom it benefits. I am convinced that the public is compelled to pay a great deal more for nearly everything it eats than it should, and I believe the figures will bear me out.

"There is ample excuse for some of the increase in the cost of living over what it was years ago. The farm area is not keeping pace with the demands for foodstuffs. The cities seem to have more attractions for the laboring man than do the rural communities. The horde of immigrants, as well as the ever-increasing native population, must be fed, and the farm is expected to furnish the food."

GIBBONS ON HIGH LIVING

Cardinal Says Food Prices Are Entirely Too Inflated.

Washington, Jan. 18.—"Most of the prices of food products are clearly out of all reason," said Cardinal Gibbons in an interview. "and the people cannot go on paying such prices when they are not earning any more than they were some years ago when prices were not so high."

The cardinal was unable to assign a reason for the high prices that prevail, but he said something "evidently is wrong when many of the commonest necessities in food are priced at such enormous figures. Something must be done soon to put the prices of foods on a reasonable basis, and any method which will bring this about I endorse."

Sample Helps Frail Women

So many women are dragging out weary lives just because their digestive organs are weak. The result is poor circulation, nervousness and the verge of invalidism. It is often very unnecessary and the woman's own fault.

The first thing to do is to look to the welfare of your bowels. There the trouble usually lies. All physicians know that a large percentage of women are habitually constipated, and from this results indigestion, piles, weakness, etc. that women constantly complain of. You will find that when the bowels move regularly once or twice a day all your petty ills will disappear. Take a good, mild laxative tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for awhile and you will find yourself rapidly getting better and stronger, your bowels will regulate themselves and you will be able to eat and sleep peacefully. Don't take strong cathartic pills or salts, but just such a mild and pleasant-tasting remedy as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

You can obtain a bottle of your drug-gist for fifty cents or one dollar, and either also may be enough to permanently cure you. Thousands of women keep it regularly in the house and will no longer be without it, as it cures them and can be used with safety by every member of the family, down to the youngest child, but if you have never used it take the advice of Mrs. Earl S. Cox, 409 Twenty-fifth street, Moline, Ill. and Mrs. Ellen Duggan, Muncie, Ind., and send to Dr. Caldwell for a free trial bottle, as they did, and learn for yourself what it will do in your own case. That it will cure you, as it did them, there is no doubt.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. GIRL SOLD FOR $20

Incidents Returned In White Slave Cases In New York.

New York, Jan. 18.—The price of a comely girl in New York is $20. For this sum, Elizabeth Harzo, twenty years old, was "sold" to a woman maintaining a resort in East Seventy-ninth street, according to indictments returned by the Rockefeller grand jury which is investigating the white slave traffic in Greater New York.

Six indictments in all were returned, and two arrests were made almost immediately thereafter, Paul Drinko and Philip Mangold, who were held in $7500 bail each for trial. They went to the Tombs in default of bail. They are charged with abducting and selling the Harzo girl.

MRS. SIGEL IS DEAD

Was Never Told Granddaughter Was Murdered by Chinaman.

New York, Jan. 18.—Mrs. Elsie Sigel, widow of the late General Franz Sigel, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lella Schehl, Mrs. Sigel had been ill since the death of her husband, six years ago, when she had a stroke of paralysis. According to the family, Mrs. Sigel was never told of the death of Elsie Sigel, her granddaughter, who was murdered by Leon Ling, a Chinaman, but the family believe that she probably knew something about it, although Elsie's name was never mentioned.

ENVOY FROM BRAZIL IS DEAD

Joaquin Nabuco Succumbs to Attack of Apoplexy.

THE END WAS SUDDEN

Although He Had Been Ill For Some Time, His Condition Was Not Considered Serious, and His Death Was a Shock to His Friends.

Washington, Jan. 18.—Senator Joaquin Nabuco, Brazilian ambassador to the United States and one of the most prominent Latin-American diplomats, died suddenly at the embassy in this city. Apoplexy was the cause of his death. Although Ambassador Nabuco had been slightly ill for some time, his condition was not regarded by his physicians as serious and his death was a shock to his friends. He was sixty-one years of age. President Taft was one of the first to call at the embassy to express condolence. Accompanied by Captain A. W. Butt, the president rode to the embassy in one of the White House autos.

Senator Nabuco belonged to that school of great statesmen produced just before the political upheaval in Brazil. He was the right hand of the illustrious Viscount de Rio Branco, one time the chancellor of Dom Pedro, and claims equal honor for the passage of the Ventre Libre law, which granted civil freedom to the children of the former slaves.

Senator Nabuco's name will be forever linked with the act of 1888, when slavery was abolished from Brazilian territory.

The ambassador was for many years minister to Great Britain before coming to Washington when the legation was raised to first rank. He leaves a widow and four children. The eldest is Mlle. Carolina, who made her bow to society in 1908. She is a demure little maiden, who is her mother's inseparable companion. The senora, the widow of the ambassador, who married quite young, is barely a score of years older than her daughter and looks more like her elder sister. Two boys, Joaquim, Jr., and Maurice, are well grown and attending a local college. But, like their ancestors, they follow the law and will make their studies partly in Rio and partly in Lisbon and the French universities.

A second girl, Mary, is a little Londoner, and is called by the English name rather than the soft Maria of the Portuguese. The youngest boy, Josef, is a well known character around Lafayette square. He is just six and of a very interesting turn of mind. The Brazilian embassy does not have a home of its own, but it is understood that Senator Nabuco was a warm advocate of such a possession. Of the embassies now established in Washington, only the Russian and the Brazilian governments are without a permanent abiding place. The embassy where the diplomat died is in the historic environment of the Lafayette square, a stone's throw from the White House, and very convenient to the state department, and the Mecca of the Latins, the Bureau of American Republics. It is a spacious residence, with a ballroom, which has been put to much use since Miss Carolina made her debut.

Senator Nabuco was the ranking diplomat in the Latin-American contingent, a fact which gave much importance and added to the social luster of his home.

SUES AUTO CO. FOR DAMAGES

Philadelphia Merchant Seeks $30,000 in Paris For Broken Legs.
Paris, Jan. 18.—Justus C. Strawbridge, the Philadelphia merchant, has brought suit before the civil tribunal for $30,000 damages against the Societe Routiere, an automobile concern. The claim is based on an accident caused by the breaking of the mechanism of a car which Mr. Strawbridge hired from the company for a tour of France, and in which the merchant had both legs broken, while his wife and sister-in-law were injured less seriously. The accident happened while the party was on the way to Biarritz. In defense the Societe argued that the De Caurville firm, which built the machine, was at fault and should be held responsible. Judgment was deferred.

Frozen to Death Near Home.

Pottsville, Pa., Jan. 18.—On his way to work, up the Heckscherville valley, north of Pottsville, Frank Cranow, of Phoenix Park, was overcome with the cold. He complained of feeling too cold to continue the trip to the mill where he was employed and turned homeward alone. Several hours later he was found frozen to death within 100 yards of his home.

Young Pastor a Suicide.

Pittsburg, Jan. 18.—Rev. Paul Axteill, aged twenty-eight years, and single, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of Sewickley, killed himself by firing a revolver bullet through his heart. He had been ill.

The Weather.

Forecast for this section: Rain and warmer today; tomorrow, fair and colder; brisk, possible high, winds, shifting to northwesterly.

One of the queer drawbacks to sod in the orchard or a mulching system which involves a lot of dry litter about the trees is the danger from fire, especially in the spring, when things have dried out by warm winds and before the green herbage starts. Where it is deemed best for any good reason to keep an orchard in sod this fire danger should be guarded against by having a strip plowed around the orchard, which will stop a fire originating outside, while occasional furrows in the orchard will prevent the spread of a fire from one part of the orchard to another.

CORSET SAVES WOMAN'S LIFE

Steel Deflects Bullet Accidentally Shot by Her Niece.
York, Pa., Jan. 18.—Mrs. Homer Shickel, twenty-one years old, of Goldsboro, was accidentally shot by her niece, Miss Pauline McFadden, of Philadelphia, and owes her life to a corset steel. The bullet was aimed directly for the woman's heart, but was deflected from its course by striking a steel in her corset. As it was, the bullet penetrated her hip, inflicting an ugly wound. Blood poison is feared. Mrs. Shickel and her niece were in an upstairs room, and while the former was dressing Miss McFadden took a 32-caliber revolver from a bureau drawer and pulled the trigger, believing the weapon was empty.

ICE GORGE 70 MILES LONG

Said to Be the Greatest in the Ohio River.
Louisville, Ky., Jan. 18.—The ice gorge at Wolf creek, on the Ohio, remains solid and extends to Brandenburg, about seventy miles. This is said to be the greatest gorge ever known on the Ohio river. Captain Seboldt, of the Monongahela Consolidated Coal and Coke company, wired Congressman Sherry at Washington, to bring to the attention of the war department the threatened danger from the gorge, and ask that dynamite be used to disgorge the ice.

INVITED TO RIDE; SHOOTS JUDGE

Neighbor Replies to Invitation With Bullets.

Towanda, Pa., Jan. 18.—Henry Richlin, associate judge of Sullivan county, was shot in the left side and probably fatally wounded by Charles Kapni, a neighbor. Judge Richlin was driving to Dushore, when he overtook Kapni and invited him to ride. Instead Kapni pulled a revolver and fired three times at the judge, one bullet hitting him. Kapni was arrested and placed in the Laporte jail. When asked why he shot the judge, he replied: "Just because I felt as if I had to do it and could not resist." The men had been neighbors a long time and never had any trouble. Kapni is believed to be insane. The shooting took place three miles from Dushore, in Sullivan county.

D. O. MILLS' WEALTH DIVIDED

Mrs. Whitelaw Reid and Ogden Mills Get Financier's Fortune.
New York, Jan. 18.—The will of D. Ogden Mills, of New York, disposes of his estate, estimated at nearly $100,000,000, by division equally between his son and daughter, Ogden Mills and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, wife of the American ambassador at the court of St. James.

The sum of $400,000, however, is directed to be paid to institutions before the division of the estate. The Metropolitan Museum of Art, the American Museum of Natural History and the Home for Incurables in this city are bequeathed $100,000 each. The sum of $20,000 is left to the New York Botanical Gardens, and the American Geographical society and the American National Red Cross get $25,000 each.

Ogden Mills and Mrs. Reid are appointed executors of the will, which was executed on Nov. 4, 1908. Ambassador Whitelaw Reid was named as an executor in case of the death of his wife prior to the death of the testator.

Bedbug Taken Out of Ear.

Philadelphia, Jan. 18.—"I'm awfully sorry to trouble you, doctor, but there is something the matter with my ear," said Fred Brown to a physician in the Jefferson hospital. The doctor took his patient to the light, and after probing a little pulled out a live and kicking bedbug. Brown, who lives at 714 Wood street, was not surprised at the find. He put the bug carefully in a piece of absorbent cotton, and said he was going to take it home to his landlady.

Nebraska In an Affidavit Declares Secretary of the Interior Wrongly Paid Relative's Traveling Charges. Another Investigation Coming.

Washington, Jan. 18.—Representative Hitchcock, of Nebraska, filed sensational charges against Secretary Ballinger, and as a result the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy is again at fever heat.

The most important allegation of Mr. Hitchcock is that funds of the interior department were improperly used in paying private traveling expenses of Secretary Ballinger's nephew. The secretary and other officials of the interior department will be subpoenaed before the house committee on expenditures, to which Mr. Hitchcock's charges were addressed.

The affidavit was presented by Mr. Hitchcock at a meeting of the committee called to permit him to substantiate his charges of extravagance in the interior department. The committee decided to issue subpoenas on Secretary Ballinger, Commissioner Bennett, of the general land office, and others interested in the charges to appear as witnesses before the committee.

The affidavit alleges improper use of the million dollar appropriation "for the protection of the public domain against frauds" by the purchase of expensive furniture, "mounting into the tens of thousands of dollars," the erection of "a certain large brick chimney for a land office at considerable expense," the employment of some eighty additional clerks, "salaries increased and in one case at least doubled" out of this million dollar fund (citing the case of Chief of the Field Service Schwartz as this instance), long telegraph bills, which "cover long extracts from the newspapers sent in by traveling representatives of the general land office, selection of special agents not at all qualified," etc.

The affidavit asserts that when Mr. Ballinger became commissioner of the general land office, the position he held before entering the cabinet, he reduced the salary of a law clerk, Wright, so that Judge Wright's $2000 salary "could be given to Jack Ballinger, his nephew, not under the title of law clerk, but under the title, created by Mr. Ballinger's order, of confidential clerk. I have been told Wright died of disappointment and humiliation soon thereafter."

Jack Ballinger remained a year in the service, the affidavit says, his manner of living about the time his uncle resigned, in March, 1908, being all-gad to illustrate "the reckless expenditures of the land office."

"It was announced," the affidavit goes on to say, "that young Jack Ballinger was leaving the land office to resume law practice in Seattle. In order that he might receive a final check-off he was designated as special temporary inspector of offices, an evasive outrage on the treasury."

This enabled him to draw traveling expenses from Washington to Seattle and a per diem rate also. Within two weeks after he reached Seattle he resigned, as understood in advance, and resumed law practice, including of course, practice before the land office out there, and also in Washington.

Supreme Court Denies Plea of Banker Under Five Years' Sentence.

Washington, Jan. 18.—The petition for a writ of certiorari in the case of John R. Walsh, former president of the Chicago National bank, of Chicago, under sentence of five years' imprisonment in the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan., on the charge of misappropriating the funds of the bank, was denied by the supreme court of the United States.

Convicted Banker Now 72.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—The United States supreme court's denial of John R. Walsh's petition for a writ of certiorari is the last chapter in the history of his long fight for freedom. The one-time bank president and railroad financier, now seventy-two years old, will, within a few days, be a convict in the federal prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

Mrs. Harriman Buys a Bank.

New York, Jan. 18.—Mrs. E. H. Harriman has acquired a stock majority of the Night and Day bank and will interest herself in the conduct of its affairs, becoming, so far as is known, the first woman in this city personally to own a financial institution. The Night and Day bank, which is the first institution of its kind to run twenty-four hours a day, opened for business on May 1, 1906. It is capitalized at $200,000.

The grower of spring or hard wheat on land worth $50 an acre, with a yield that the past year averaged but fifteen bushels per acre in the spring wheat belt, is up against a practical proposition—namely, his returns at prevailing prices after expenses are paid don't leave him a fair return on his investment. He must either raise a variety of wheat that will yield more bushels to the acre or quit raising wheat altogether except in a three or four year rotation.

DON'T WAIT

Take Advantage of a Gettysburg Citizen's Experience Before It's Too Late.

When the back begins to ache, Don't wait until backache becomes chronic; Till serious kidney troubles develop; Till urinary troubles destroy night's rest.

Profit by a Gettysburg citizen's experience.

Miss K. Crouse, 135 West St., Gettysburg, Pa. says: "I suffered from kidney disease for years and was unable to find anything that would give me even temporary relief. I endured a great deal of misery from pains in the small of my back and I was also greatly troubled with headaches and dizzy spells. My kidneys gave me much trouble and the complaint was growing worse daily. When a friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box at the People's drug store and they proved to be just what I required. They went at once to the seat of the trouble and gave me immediate relief. I am now in better health than before in years, and it is all due to the curative powers of Doan's Kidney Pills."

TRUTH CROPS OUT

Why Pile Sufferers So Often Fail To Get Relief

Science is getting to the bottom of everything, including the cause and cure of piles. The brightest doctors now admit that piles are caused internally and can be cured only by internal treatment. Dr. J. S. Leonard some time ago perfected a remedy in tablet form—Bism-Roid, which cures the cause of piles, and therefore cures permanently. It is sold by People's Drug Store, Gettysburg, Pa. under money-back guarantee. $1 for 24 days' treatment. Dr. Leonard Co., Station B, Buffalo, N. Y. Write for booklet.

LIGHTNING A MYSTERY

THE THEORY OF THUNDER.

In a General Way It Is Understood; but, as a Matter of Fact, the Bolt From the Storm in its Erratic Tendencies Defies the Investigator.

In a general way we understand the theory of thunderstorms. As a matter of fact, there is no phenomenon of nature, but excepting even earthquakes, of which we know so little. Man-made lightning—that is, electricity of the highest power, which we can artificially produce—will act according to certain known laws. It will, for instance, travel along a conductor of metal.

But a flash of lightning will frequent leap from a well defined metal path and launch itself through the air or some adjacent object which is an infinitely poorer conductor.

This may be due to the almost inconceivable force of a flash of lightning, says a writer in Pearson's Weekly. It is estimated that a flash of lightning a mile long represents a pressure of discharge equal to 3,000,000,000 volts.

As such a flash lasts only about the thousandth part of a second the energy dissipated by the discharge is equal to 300,000 horsepower. Put in other words, if we could find some means of saving and using lightning we should be the richer by a good round sum for every flash.

Lightning is, as we know, usually accompanied by a peal of thunder, which is louder the nearer the hearer is to the point of the discharge, but this is not an invariable rule. There are cases on record of most destructive lightning flashes which were unaccompanied by sound.

Such a phenomenon occurred at Bradford some years ago. What is described as "a silent thunderbolt" fell in a graveyard, destroying one monument and smashing to atoms nearly seventy glass cases containing wreaths and flowers.

In the same summer Swanscombe, in Kent, was terrified by a freak of lightning. All of a sudden "a great mass of blue fire" swept along the street, and next moment it was seen that the blue old parish church, built nearly 700 years ago, had been struck. The building, with all its fine old carved oak, was soon a roaring furnace, and only a part of the chancel was saved.

Scientists are still hopelessly at sea as to the cause of that peculiar phenomenon known as globe lightning. At Coventry some years ago during a violent thunderstorm it passed along a street like a soap bubble built of blue fire and drifted into a shed, where it exploded, blowing the roof off the place.

At Rheims, in France, a similar fire ball came into a cobbler's shop through the open window. The solitary occupant of the place sat perfectly still, paralyzed with terror, while his fearful visitant hovered for several seconds overhead. Then it moved toward the fireplace and presently passed up the chimney.

Next moment there was an explosion like a shell bursting, and the upper part of the chimney came crashing down.

Not long ago Count G. Hamilton made a record of a similar freak of electricity. He was sitting at dinner at a house on Lake Wener, in Sweden, when just after a vivid flash of lightning a brilliant white ball appeared over the table and after hanging poised there for some seconds went off with a loud bang.

Fortunately it did no harm to any one, although it was quite close to several people. Those who saw it suggested it was like a ball of cold lightning.

In November, 1902, Sydney, Australia, was visited by a terrific dust storm, in the midst of which a perfect rain of electric fire balls began to fall. These set fire to a number of houses, and a most appalling panic set in. A cry was raised that the end of the world was at hand, and people rushed out of their houses into the ink black, dust deep streets.

The most amazing and terrifying displays of the power of lightning are seen on mountains. In 1890 a party was on the top of a mountain in the Caucasus when a huge violet ball, surrounded by vivid rays, struck a rock near by and, exploding like a bomb, burst into atoms. One of the party was badly hurt.

Stilton Cheese.

The secret of making Stilton cheese was for some time confined to the family of the original inventors, who were under an engagement to sell all they could make to the famous Cooper Thornhill of Stilton. Being thus to be obtained of him alone, it received the appellation of Stilton cheese, but it would have been more appropriately named Wihote cheese, being first made in that village, on the eastern side of Leicestershire, about thirty miles from Stilton.—London Standard.

Helping Him.

Mr. Backward—Well—er—yes, since you ask me, I was thinking of consulting a fortune teller. Miss Coy—To find out whom you will marry, eh? Mr. Backward—Why—er—yes. I— Miss Coy—Why not ask me and save the fortune teller's fee toward the price of the ring?

The thicker the grass the easier to mow—Alaric.

Invisible Dogs.

The coat of a red setter normally stands out fairly clear against heather of the ordinary hue. When, however, it gets soaked with rain it darkens very much and blends very closely with the heather. The Gordon setter is perhaps the worst in this regard of assimilating with the color of heather and so being liable to get a charge of shot.—Country Life.
